

Women without Borders

Internship information and application guidelines

Thank you for your interest in an internship opportunity at Women without Borders (WwB) in Vienna. We process applications on a quarterly basis and would be glad to include yours in our pool of potential interns. This document provides background information on the organisation, details the various internship tracks, and provides an overview of the contents to be submitted by you and your referees. University students (entering their final year of undergraduate study), recent graduates, and postgraduates in related fields are welcome to apply. Please note that we do not accept applications from interns who cannot commit to at least 3 months and 32 hours per week.

About

Women without Borders (WwB), a Quasi International Organisation headquartered in Vienna, was founded by Edit Schlaffer in 2001. To date, we have implemented some eighty projects across thirty countries in the areas of Female Leadership, Capacity Building, Gender Based Violence, Intercultural Dialogue, and Preventing Violent Extremism. Our emphasis rests on translating evidence-based research into needs-based grassroots programming.

-  empowering the female leaders of today and tomorrow at the individual, community, and global levels
-  advocating for a future without fear, suppression, and violence against women
-  bringing the voices of impactful local leaders to the attention of the world
-  introducing and normalising the idea of mothers as the first line of defence in their homes and communities
-  supporting and inspiring women in the process of moving from victimhood towards agency

Tracks and responsibilities

The general duties of interns include but are not limited to: transcribing interviews; contributing to qualitative research reports; supporting WwB in admin-related matters; and writing background papers on the social and political context of countries within which we work or plan to implement projects. WwB seeks candidates with strong interpersonal skills and a proven record of being able to multitask.

We offer three internship tracks. Your covering letter should include your preference and speak to your suitability for one or more tracks (in order of preference). Since WwB operates project and needs-based, please note that you may be assigned another track. You are expected to be able to move between tracks and meet the basic requirements of the following expectations.
